Later, they told stories of a "Bat Cave." In 1898, a young man, Jim White, saw smoke and found bats flying around the cave. He tried to go down and used a lantern made from a coffee pot to light his way because it's dark inside the cave.

Jim was so surprised at what he saw in the cave. There were lots of white rocks and stones with different shapes. Some grew on the ground like trees, and some looked like bridges. Then, he told other people to come to visit the Cavern. Carlsbad Caverns has become protected as a national park since 1930, so all people could keep coming and enjoy its natural beauty.

He decided to take a look at it because he remembered his grandfather told him before there was a ghosts' house near here. After he entered the house, some bats were scared to fly up. He found spiders and insects were here and there. It looked like no one was there for a very long time.

Charles walked into each room with the help of his cell phone light. All the tables and desks were covered by earth and were being eaten by white ants. A few dirty clothes were on the ground. Then he entered a bigger room. There was a bed with a blanket on it. Charles felt his body starting shaking while he found something moving under the blanket. He didn't know whether it was OK to see what it was. Later, he made up his mind to find the fact with his shaking hand. At the moment of moving the blanket, he CRIED OUT LOUDLY! Some mice ran out of it very quickly! He was scared and fell on the ground. He felt his body getting wetter and wetter. However, nothing happened the next. Charles looked around for several minutes. Elsa: Wow, you've got everything down in writing.

Jack: So, what do you think about my plan?

Elsa: It's...interesting.

Jack: Oh, no, don't say that.

Elsa: The first thing you should know is that Anna's scared of anything about ghosts.

I don't think she'll feel too excited about seeing that Japanese ghost movie with you.

Jack: How about Fast and Furious 7? I remember she loves the leading actor so much.

Elsa: Yeah, but only when he acts in romance movies, not in action ones.

Jack: Fine. I'll just take her somewhere else, like a museum or the beach. Would that be OK?

Elsa: That'd be a good idea.

Jack: Great! We'll go to the beach.

Elsa: Umm, you're taking her to Big Fish for dinner?

Jack: What's wrong with that?!

Elsa: I wouldn't say a dead fish is really her idea of a nice dinner, and this restaurant sells seafood...

Jack: Now you're wrong about this one. She loved my mom's fish balls.

She had several last time she went to my home!

Elsa: I believe she was just being polite. Anyway, I thought you wanted her to be your girlfriend.

Jack: I do!

Elsa: If you follow this plan, I'm sure it'll be your only date with her.

Q. 請問 Elsa 最後為什麼對 Jack 說 If you follow this plan, I'm sure it'll be your only date with her.，並請利用文本內容加以完整說明理由。（中、英文作答皆可）
