Do you hate bees flying around when you're having a picnic? Perhaps you'll think again after you hear this: Bees play an important part in feeding the world—without the help of bees, we might lose as much as 90% of our food. And now here's some bad news: Our little helpers are dying. In Europe and North America, the number of bees has dropped sharply. The UK, for example, reported a worrying 54% drop over the last 20 years.

It's hard to tell why bees are dying. Some believe it's because winters are getting too cold for them. Some think Varroa Destructor is the culprit. This very small kind of bug lives on bees and slowly kills them. Others feel we are in the wrong. When we turn more land into houses, more plants die. This means bees will not be able to find enough food. There may be a lot of guesses about it, but what's more important is to find an answer soon. If we don't take action, we'll all "bee" sorry.

- () 34. According to the reading, what might happen if we lose the help of bees?
- (A) Bees will find enough places to live.
 - (B) The price of food will become cheap.
 - (C) One day, most people will often feel hungry.
 - (D) There will be more kinds of fruits and vegetables.
- () 35. What does it mean when someone is a culprit?
- (A) They try to fix something bad.
 - (B) They always do something good.
 - (C) They make something bad happen.
 - (D) They run away from something bad.

Old and Beautiful Woodshire

Get on a train that runs along the Wald River and travel to beautiful Woodshire, an old town with a history of three hundred years. When you arrive at Woodshire, the first thing you'll see is Woodshire Castle. It stands by the river, and is across from the railway station. The castle garden is free for visits, or you can buy a ticket to enjoy the beautiful castle.

Walk along the Wald River, and you will get to the center of Woodshire. A nice place to stop by is Woodshire Mask Museum. Spend some time in the museum and make yourself a mask.

And don't forget to have afternoon tea in Woodshire. Woodshire's tea is known all over the world, and there is a tea house street near Woodshire Church Square. There you can have a taste of the best black tea at the Black Pot, one of the oldest tea houses in the east end. If you want to take a good look at Woodshire from a higher place, walk south and climb to the top of the White Gate, the oldest town gate. From the top you can clearly see the castle, the museum, the church, and many important places in Woodshire.

For more information, please go to <http://www.woodshire.org>.

() 36. Which picture best shows Woodshire?

() 37. Eric wants to visit Woodshire and try the famous black tea. He is in front of the station. Please help him find the right way.

- (A) It's right across from the station. And he can also make a mask there.
- (B) Go to the middle of the old town. He can also enjoy the free castle garden.
- (C) Cross the river, and walk south. He can drink some black tea on the top of a gate.
- (D) Walk along the river first, he can find some tea house near the church square. It's in the east end.

() 38. What information is NOT given in the reading?

- (A) What Woodshire is famous for.
- (B) How do people get to Woodshire?
- (C) Woodshire is three hundred years old.
- (D) When is the best time to visit Woodshire?
